INTRODUCTION TO THE FIRST EDITION

THIS is the second volume in a set of reference atlases which the publishers have in view for the readers of "Everyman's Library," their object being to provide the literary and historical student with all the necessary geographical data to illustrate the books which he is reading. It was found impossible to give sufficient detail of the whole World in one volume, and it was decided to give an Atlas to each Continent, whose special features could there be adequately treated. Extending the lines of the Classical Atlas, this book attempts to cover the geography of Europe, mapped out not only to define the frontiers and countries, but to illustrate history and literature—especially English literature. The changes in the face of Europe that have marked the growth of nations, that went on through the Middle Ages, and have continued to the times of Wellington and Napoleon, the Franco Prussian War, and to the merging to day of the military in the industrial struggle, may be followed in the 96 pages of coloured maps which come first in the volume. In addition, some 45 pages of maps in outline will be found covering—

- (a) The great battles of the world. These are devised with an eye to Creasy's Fifteen Decisive Battles, and they go back to classic times, but it will be found that they help to illustrate many modern books too.
- (b) Maps which relate to English literature. These do not exhaust the field but they serve as examples of what the student, carrying on the process, may do for himself. By illustrating certain proverbial books and special authors, they show the reader how he may, with the coloured map for his guidance, go on to trace a map to illustrate his own favourite literary region or history book.
- (c) An Outline Map of England and Wales showing the situation of the greater monasteries and religious houses.

HISTORICAL ATLAS OF EUROPE

- (d) Two extremely interesting Outline Maps which illustrate Medieval and Revolutionary Paris
- (e) The Map of London as it was rebuilt after the Fire, and up to the end of the eighteenth century, must be of very great interest to all readers of Pepys, Evelyn, Johnson, and Goldsmith, and of many other great spirits who haunted these streets, for here are pictured the actual houses in which Johnson and some of his contemporaries lived

The small scale of the Map of the Arthurian regions, now for the first time included in an atlas, compels the omission of the local details in each district or region, but the student who shall be tempted by it to make a special map for individual romances, such as Sir Percival, Sir Tristram, or the Welsh Irwyth in the Mabinogion, will find in the end that he has gained a new idea of what romance means. The map of the Dickens country, again, covers nearly all the chief places of interest in the novels, but it would require a series of charts to represent each book in detail. One would like to add a Dickens London, but that any student can make who will profit by example and trace for himself the localities of the different London stories. To do this, he will require, however, a pretty early nineteenth-century map stated in some street detail.

Another feature which we believe to be quite unique is that we have been able, by the kindness of Mr. Bernard Roth (the eminent orthopædic surgeon), to add a sketch of the English Coinage from 150 B.C. up to King Edward VII's time, and to illustrate it with eight pages of examples from his own unique collection. This indeed brings reality into romance for no longer is Shakespeare's "Cymbeline" a mythical person, but a living king who coined his own coins in his mint at Colchester, and many other dim historic personages stand out vividly when we see their image and superscription upon their own coins. This could only have been possible through the kindness of Mr. Roth, and we owe him our most hearty thanks.

We have to thank Miss Edwardes, too, for the careful compilation of a Gazetteer, drawn up with definite bearing upon local events and historic and literary associations, which, with the maps themselves to lend it reality, helps to make topography alive and human. A few places of note, it may be, are not to be found in the maps, but this is usually because they are mere villages, fields, or roads which it would require a map of an immense scale to contain, and since the latitude and longitude in each case is given the reader may easily locate the spot

It is intended to follow this Atlas speedily with one of America, which will be treated on the same lines, and with the same full illustrative detail, and that in turn will be followed by separate atlases of Asia and of Africa and Australia, so that the world's geography and history will be very fully covered when the set is complete

The publishers would like to say how much they are indebted to the skill and knowledge of Dr Bartholomew, who has been exceedingly fruitful in suggestion and prodigal to liberality in making new plates whenever any new value could be given to the maps. Indeed, their enterprise would have been impossible, and lacking in many of its most essential features, but for his skilled aid and interest in the venture

NOTE TO THE 1923 EDITION

In the present edition of this Atlas several maps have had to be considerably altered in order to correspond to the changes brought about by the various Peace Treaties. These changes chiefly affect Alsace-Lorraine, the Baltic States, Poland, Austria-Hungary, and the Balkan States. The Index and Gazetteer have been revised accordingly, and in the case of places which have received new names on account of these changes references to the old names have been given

NOTE TO THE 1930 EDITION

In this new edition the Survey of English Coinage has been replaced by additional line maps and drawings that illustrate more directly the different phases of history and literature. Among the new material will be found

- (a) Outline maps of modern London, Paris, and Rome
- (b) Norden's map of London as it was in Queen Elizabeth's reign, showing Bankside with the theatres and Bear garden. In addition there are drawings of Old St. Paul's, and of two Elizabethan theatres, one showing the interior of the Swan and the other the exterior of the Globe—scenes of glorious memory to students of Elizabethan drama. Paul's Churchyard should also be noticed, as it was of this fashionable lounging place that Dekker wrote so wittily in the Gull's Horn Book, and here too that all the notable books of the day were on sale.

- (c) A line map showing the invasions and plantations in Ireland at four different dates
 - (d) A map of Iceland showing the Saga Steads
 - (e) Maps of three decisive battles of the War, 1914-18
- A pronouncing gazetteer of foreign names has also been added

SOME OPINIONS ON EVERYMAN'S ENCYCLOPAEDIA

SIR JOSIAH STAMP:—

I have used Everyman's Encyclopaedia constantly. It is an invaluable work.

J. Stamp

J. B. PRIESTLEY:—

At the price it is a most extraordinary production. It is easy and pleasant to read and has been edited with great skill.

J. B. Priestley

SIR ARTHUR KEITH:—

I have searched its pages and have found without fail an accurate and adequate statement of the best and latest known.

It is a veritable triumph.

Arthur Keith

VISCOUNTESS SNOWDEN:—

A wonderful production. The 12 volumes form a library in themselves, a never-failing source of information and delight.

Ethel Snowden

RE. HON. SIR A. CHAMBERLAIN:—
Admirably written and edited, it contains a surprising amount of information. The pages open freely and the print is clear.
